

Quonset Points

December 1, 2005

We want to show you what we've been up to.

We think you'll be impressed.
QDC – Open House - December 8th

The Quonset Development Corporation is hosting an open house for local residents and other interested parties on December 8th from 5:30 until 7:30pm. The open house will feature displays on several ongoing projects at the Quonset Business Park.

Realigning Davisville Road

Representatives from Maguire Group, the engineering firm which prepared the design study to relocate Davisville Road will be on hand to answer questions and display sketches of the realigned road.

"We asked Maguire Group to take a look at the road design, particularly since Davisville Road as it currently is situated does not allow for segregated rail and road traffic and is not properly designed to accommodate the traffic which flows in and out of the park," said Steve King, QDC Chief Operating Officer. "The new concept is a marked improvement and benefits everyone."

North Kingstown Town Councilor Suzanne Henseler has been instrumental in providing QDC with guidance and input from neighbors as it works to develop the business park. The open house will be a chance to continue the dialogue.

What else will you see at the QDC open house?

- An overview of QDC's development initiatives including a look at the Gateway project and New Boston's combined plans for the entrance to the Business Park and flex space.
- A presentation on QDC's outreach to small businesses. We hosted two events- one for the North Kingstown Chamber of Commerce, and another sponsored by CB Richard Ellis and New Harbor Group that connected small businesses with representatives from the Small Business Administration, the Economic Development Corporation, and private firms for a workshop on grants, loans and financing.
- The latest developments in ongoing discussions on a North Kingstown Quonset sewer district.

We look forward to seeing you at this open house. We have a lot to be proud of, much of it made possible because of our ongoing working relationship with officials in North Kingstown and the Business Park's neighbors.
